SAMPSON'S GREAT FIGHT

He Will Probably Meet the Spanish Fleet Today.

OREGON AND HER CONSORTS WILL PERHAPS BE THERE.

Washington, May 16—Special—Little information is given out at the Navy department as to the movements of Sampson's fleet. It is admitted as a matter of course that he is lying in wait for the Spanish squadron, and will give it battle at the first opportunity, and hints are dropped that tomorrow will be the fateful day. Much will depend, however, upon the arrival or non-arrival of the battleship Oregon and the gunboat Marietta. It is stated positively at the department that these vessels are safe, and have been heard from within the past twenty-four hours. This statement is confirmed by a news dispatch from Jamaica, which states that after the vessels left Bahia last Friday, they steamed with all possible haste northward. An ex-naval officer stated today that in all probability, they would reach Sampson's fleet by tomorrow morning, or by noon at the latest.

Spanish Tactics.

The Spanish Admiral is probably bound for Cienfuegos, and will make that port his base of operations. He has not, as was supposed, tried to intercept the Oregon. Such a step would have weakened his squadron vitally, and would have been taken advantage of immediately by Admiral Sampson. The Spaniard's tactics has been to mass his fleet, for he realizes that upon the issue of the present encounter will depend the outcome of the war. If he should meet with a crushing defeat Spain would be compelled to sue for peace without risking further humiliation.

The Coming Battle.

With the addition of the Oregon and Marietta Sampson will have a fleet vastly superior to that of the Spaniards, and could drive the vaunted armada from American waters or sink its vessels to the bottom of the sea. This is said with a proviso, which may be given in the words of the naval officer already quoted. "I have every confidence in Sampson," he said. "He has excellent judgment and is as brave a man as ever walked a deck. He will surely win if he is left to his own discretion. But if the politicians at Washington undertake to direct his course he may lose. If I was in supreme command the only order I would issue would contain but three words—'Whip the Spaniards'—and then I would complacently await results."

Troops for Dewey.

Washington, May 16—Special—The War Department is making all the haste possible to send troops to Dewey. The City of Pekin will leave San Francisco in a few hours, to be followed in rapid succession by three other transport ships. Fifteen thousand men in all will go.

The Oregon Heard From.

Washington, May 16—Special—The Navy Department has heard from the Oregon this morning. The whereabouts of the battleship is not divulged, but the officers say no fears are entertained for her safety.

Ordered Out of Curacao.

Curacao, May 16—Special—The Spanish fleet left this port last night. Two of the warships took on coal while here. The departure was due to the request of the government to leave, as provided in the decree of neutrality.

The Blockade Ineffectual.

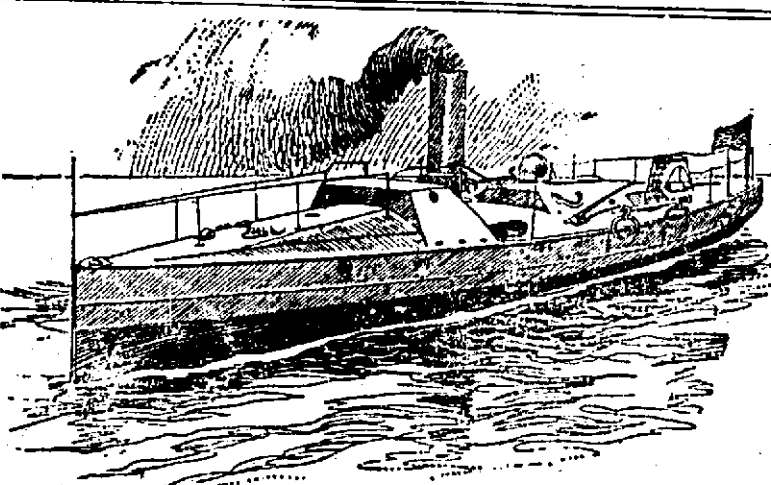

Madrid, May 16—Special—The government declares the blockade of Cuba cannot be recognized as effective, and hopes that the European powers and the states of Central and South America will refuse to recognize it.

Spain's Fleet.

Key West, May 16—Special—The Spanish fleet is reported eighteen hours off the northern Cuban coast.

Returns to Manila.

Hong Kong, May 16—Special—The United States gunboat McCulloch will return to Manila tomorrow.

THE YARROW TORPEDO CHASER MANLY.

This little craft, recently brought from England, is named the Manly, after a hero of the Revolutionary war. She is only 60 feet long and is built more for speed than destructiveness. Her beam is 9.8 feet, and her draft astern, when under full speed, is 8.8 feet. The displacement of the boat is only 17 tons, and her speed is said to be close to 28 knots. The hull is of thin steel.

ZANDER RESIGNS AND COMES HOME

TROUBLE IN LIGHT INFANTRY AT CAMP.

Captain Hanson Wanted Zander To Give Fred Miner His Position, and Zander Refused, His Resignation Following—There Is Much Ill Feeling Among Soldier Boys.

Herman Zander, formerly First Sergeant of Company A arrived home Saturday night. Trouble between Sergeant Zander and Captain Hanson resulted in his resignation, and caused ill-feeling among the boys. This afternoon a Gazette man interviewed Sergeant Zander.

Last Monday when the physical examination was held it resulted in the removal of Jerry Brosman, our second sergeant. As is customary we all thought the regular line of promotions would follow. Friday Fred Miner came to me and asked me to step back to the position of second sergeant, and give my position as first sergeant to him.

Resigned and Came Home
"Captain Hanson then approached me saying for me to give Miner the place and that he would appoint me second sergeant. I told Captain Hanson that I would not give up my diamonds and stripes to any man living unless he had earned the position like myself."

"Captain Hanson then stated that he thought that the position of second sergeant would be easier for me, but I told him that I came in as first sergeant of Co. A, and that I would leave the grounds before I would be reduced in rank. He said that I had better think it over."

"Saturday night I left the grounds at 5 o'clock and the boys carried me on their shoulders one to the main gates and very many of them had tears in their eyes. They cheered me all the way and were anything but pleased at the action of Captain Hanson."

"Saturday morning he came to me and asked me to remain as first sergeant, but I told him I would resign my position for the reason that I no longer had any faith in things."

Mr. Zander has been a member of the Light Infantry for four and one half years and for the past two years has held the position of first sergeant.

Captain Hanson drew $2,004 today. Each man received $2 per day. Board costs eighteen cents per day. Each man has put in sixteen days' full time.

DOE FAVORS LARGE NAVY

Says This Nation Should Maintain Many Fighting Ships

The Milwaukee Journal interviewed a number of people on the question of the size of the navy Uncle Sam should have. Joseph B. Doe said:

"I think that this country ought to have a navy equal to any in the world except possibly Britain, not to acquire territory nor for national aggrandizement, but to protect our commerce and to gain the respect of European nations. Large appropriations ought to be made for our coast defenses, for monitors and cruisers."

There is great danger, however, that if the country acquires a great navy, it will be tempted to change its present policy of non-interference. Navy officers themselves always urge action for their department, armor plate manufacturers, makers of smokeless powder and shipbuilders all urge naval activities, and there is great danger that the pressure thus brought to bear will force the nation into a policy of interfering in the affairs of the other nations. I am opposed to such a change of policy, but at the same time I think this country ought to increase its navy."

ENGLAND WOULD DESTROY FRANCE

PARIS NEWSPAPERS ALARMED AT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

Say the French Fleet is in Danger of Destruction—Chamberlain's Speech Has Brought War Within the Range of Possibilities—Russian Alliance Useless

Paris, May 16—[Special]—The French press views the attitude regarding the attitude of Great Britain toward France with alarm. They believe England is desirous to suddenly destroy the French fleet and afterward dealing with Russia, which would then derive no benefit from its alliance with France. Chamberlain's speech, it is asserted, has brought war between France and Great Britain within measurable limits.

WILL REMOVE TO BELOIT

Ernest G. Lapierre Will Make the Line City His Future Home

Ernest G. Lapierre, who for a number of years has been connected with the George W. Wise photograph gallery in this city, has made arrangements to occupy the Galat gallery in Beloit. He and his wife will soon move to the Line City to take up their home on School street. Mr. Lapierre is well posted in the art of photography, and his host or friends in this city will wish him success in his new undertaking.

St. Thomas Cable Cut.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—A dispatch from St. Thomas says that the cable is interrupted between St. Thomas and St. Vincent, Barbadoes, Granada, Trinidad and Demerara are thus cut off from telegraphic communication with the rest of the world. The only way to get advice to or from those places is by steamer or sailing vessel. It is conjectured that the cable has been cut by the Spaniards off Barbadoes, where the American warship Oregon, now en route from the west coast of the United States, might be expected to arrive.

Spanish Cabinet Resigns.

Madrid, May 16.—All the members of the Spanish cabinet have resigned. Senor Sagasta communicated the situation to the queen regent, who will trust him with the task of forming a new ministry. It is officially denied that the cabinet changes are connected with a peace movement. On the contrary, it is declared that Premier Sagasta's ministry, when the new cabinet is formed, will continue to prosecute the war with the full resources of the country.

Cubans Failed to Appear.

Key West, Fla., May 16.—The steamer Gussie, which was to have landed an expedition in Cuba with a large quantity of arms and ammunition, has returned without having accomplished its purpose. The reception which our men met from the Spaniards was very hot and on account of the Cubans who were to have met Capt. Dorst and party failing to put in their appearance at the appointed time and place the expedition returned.

Calls It a Spanish Victory.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 16.—The captain general of Porto Rico telegraphed to the Spanish consul here, saying: "Eleven American warships have bombarded the forts of the town. A heroic defense was made. The soldiers are prepared to fight to the death. The Americans retreated. Several of their ships were damaged, and one was towed away. It was a Spanish victory."

Seaman Sautzenoch Is Dead.

Key West, Fla., May 16.—Ernest Sautzenoch, one of the American seamen wounded at Cienfuegos while cutting cables at the entrance to the harbor last Wednesday, died Saturday night in the marine hospital here. His leg was so badly injured it had to be amputated, and he did not survive the shock. He was a first-class seaman, and his home was in Brooklyn.

Major Bunker, of Beloit, was in town yesterday.

MORE VIGOR IN METHODS

President Has Decided to Change His War Policy.

GUNS TO BE USED WHENEVER RESISTANCE IS OFFERED.

Washington, May 16—Special—President McKinley's peaceful blockade has been practically abandoned. Commanders of warships now blockading Cuba received orders today to reduce all Cuban fortifications that showed resistance. The president has come to a realization of the fact with a peaceful blockade it is impossible to land expeditions on the Cuban coast, hence this order, which goes into effect immediately. Cabanas and Mariel may be bombarded today.

Program of the Fleet.

Washington, May 16—Special—It is believed at the navy department that the Spanish fleet now in the Caribbean sea will avoid a combat until it accomplishes its mission, which is to convey relief to Blanco. The supposed plan of the fleet is to drive the blockading vessels away from Cienfuegos, and then land supplies and troops. It is likely, therefore, that Schley's fleet may hurry to the support of the Cienfuegos blockade, and defeat this purpose as well as secure a battle with the Spanish fleet.

A Fruitless Errand.

Key West, May 16—Special—The United States tug Uncas, which went into Havana harbor under a flag of truce, its mission being to attempt to exchange two Spanish prisoners for Thrall and Jones, the American correspondents imprisoned at Cabanas, returned today without having accomplished its purpose. The Havana authorities will make the exchange, however, as soon as the Uncas commander secures proper papers from Washington.

Spain's Ministers Resign.

Madrid, May 16—Special—Premiere Sagasta today handed to the queen regent the resignations of the entire ministry. Her majesty entrusted Sagasta with the organization of a new cabinet.

Fleet is Reinforced.

Washington, May 16—Special—It is reported that reinforcements have arrived at Martinique for the Spanish fleet which left Curacao yesterday. The reinforcing vessels are said to be the cruisers Cataluna, Princess, DeAsturias and Cardinal Cisneros.

And the Cat Came Back.

St. Thomas, W. I., May 16—Special—The cruiser Yale, which was reported as captured, returned here today to await orders from Sampson.

Beaten by Gomez.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16—Special—In an engagement near Cienfuegos last week Gomez defeated 1,600 Spanish troops and compelled the Spaniards to relinquish Jucaro Moron Trocha and retire to the city.

Communication Restored.

New York, May 16—Special—Havana is again in telegraphic communication with the world. Its cable line is open via Santiago de Cuba.

Not Confirmed.

Washington, May 16—Special—The navy department has no confirmation of the reported capture of the cruiser Yale near St. Thomas, W. I.

THEIR BEST BIB AND TUCKER

Chief Hogan and His Aide Blossom Forth in New Uniforms.

Chief of Police Hogan and Officer Appleby were kept busy today receiving hearty congratulations on account of their new uniforms, which they donned this morning.

This evening Officer Brown will make his appearance, and from all reports his outfit improves his appearance at least 50 per cent. The wearing of uniforms by the Janesville police marks the first move in the direction of metropolitanism that was inaugurated in the Bower City, and that the improvement "fills a long felt want" is no doubt the opinion of the general public.

LESSONS FROM LOCAL PULPITS

REV. ARTHUR C. KEMPTON
SPEAKS OF A HIGHER LIFE.

The Duty of Striving for Excellence
Enlarged Upon—Rev. Mr. Denison
Speaks of the Debt of Possession
—War Parables Continued by Rev.
W. A. Hall.

A good congregation greeted Pastor Kempton at the Baptist church yesterday. His subject was "Go Up Higher." His text was in Luke 14-10. Christ would have us come up higher. The average level of Christian living is altogether too low. Has not your experience proven that your life has not been what it ought to be? Christ does not mean that we should live like this. He would have us live "up higher." Jesus died that we might be redeemed from sin. Are we to still continue in sin? No, he has something better for us. He would not have us live down in the walls of sin. We are to get above that.

Notice that the characteristic of the better life is one of humility. We are too apt to try and carry our own burdens. God would take them if we would humbly submit to him. Submission is the secret of the higher life which God would have us live. If we would submit to God and trust him in all things, we would find rest and joy. Can we not trust our Father?

The little child has no fears while in his father's arms. If we will thus surrender ourselves to our Father we shall find the solution of all our troubles. He will deliver us from all temptations and help us to bear our burdens. Have you not grown in your Christian life? Place yourselves in the arms of God and you shall develop and grow. Have you not served God as you would wish? Come up into the higher way of living. Surrender yourself to God and service will be easy.

How may we enter into this higher life? It is a gift of God to those who have consecrated themselves to God and received it by faith in God. We are to commit all we have unto God and He will help us to live as we ought to live. He loves us and if we are obedient to Him He will give us joy and happiness and help us to live a higher and better life.

In the afternoon the funeral of Mrs. M. B. Millmore, who has been a member of this church over fifty years, was held at the church. There was a very large attendance. Mr. Kempton's evening subject was "Hah."

WAR PARABLES

Rev. Mr. Hall Draws Religious Lessons From the Pending Conflict

A large audience listened very attentively last evening to Rev. W. A. Hall as he brought the things of the religious life home to the people by means of things of the war. "War Parables" are destined to be popular. He first spoke on selfishness. How utterly and beautifully unselfish the stand taken by our nation in this war. Our nation expects enormously and fights not for itself but for others. The United spirit is unselfish. The Christian should live for others. The Christian church should lavish its millions freely and give its sons and daughters for oppressed people everywhere.

Mr. Hall then spoke of the much vaunted honor of Spain. When Spain is thoroughly disgraced in the eyes of all the world, her honor will be satisfied. Just what the honor of Spain is, and when and where exhibited, Mr. Hall could not tell. They know how to spell the word honor big, but had no conception of its meaning. Their honor was all pretension. Then the speaker went on to show that pretension was not all in Spain. He showed up some common human pretensions. Why pretend? Let us be ourselves. God can make and keep us right. Then we can be genuine in all our speech and conduct. He spoke of Dewey's withdrawing of his vessels in the very heat of conflict to cool the guns, rest and refresh the men, and plan for further work. So even in the heat of conflict we need to withdraw, and in reading the word and prayer prepare afresh for life.

Mr. Hall spoke of the gold medals for every marine engaged in the battle of Manila, as well as for Dewey himself. Many common people fail to receive recognition now and here Christ will reward the humblest of the faithful. Continuing his talk on the aggressive policy now being pursued by the administration. The best defense is offense. He did not talk much of a church that was always defending itself. Let the Christian church be as aggressive as Christ wanted it, and it would need no defending. Mr. Hall, then described the destructive work on the guns of Sampson's fleet, on the forts

The "Life of Christ" talk given in the morning was listened to with very close attention.

THE DEBT OF ADVANTAGE

Theme of Rev. H. C. Denison at the Congregational Church.

At the Congregational church yesterday the pastor, Rev. H. C. Denison, preached from the text in Luke 12:28, on the theme, "The Debt of Advantage." He said in brief:

There are two reasons for indebtedness. One is the commercial, where one man has received something from another and owes him payment in return. The other is the Christian reason, when one man has received nothing from the other but possesses something which that other lacks, and then his very abundance and the other's need make him a debtor to give.

Paul out of his great heart cried, "I am a debtor both to the Greeks and Barbarians, both to the wise and foolish, so much as in me I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome." Yonder by the blue waters of the Asopos, in the shade of marble temples, the marvel and despair of builders today, in whose white beauty all Greek heart and history were enshrined, walked the philosopher, whose oracles the world still keeps. In the north far away in regions more dim and distant than the polar lands to us, in dwellings dark and low, lived millions of men, a lethal life, from whose free and warlike strength the nations of today were to be built. Under the soft Italian sky was Rome, already in the early afternoon of the empire, touched with the taint of luxury, swarming with soldiers, princes and slaves. And to all this world that one Jew in Asia Minor announced himself to the debtor and declared that by a love of ceaseless travel and hardship, by a daily tireless ministry of love, by a life and a tongue that never to preach the eternal truth in which was the world's deliverance and hope, through many years, until his powers were spent, and outside the Roman walls the sword of the headman ended the troubled and magnificent life, he would not cease to pay that debt. For he had something that the world did not have.

Grace gave him nothing. The philosophers on Mars Hill mocked him when he spoke of the resurrection of the dead. Rome gave him nothing—only an unfair trial, shame and a dunce. It was not to give back what they had given him that he labored to his death. It was because there was in his own heart a light and a peace, a Christ that they had not.

The stern old New England days were not useless nor altogether mistaken. They were days of strength, and yet we rejoice to feel that we have passed beyond them forever. Religion depends no more on the prison, the law, to hold men to herself. The message today is of liberty; the plea of the hour is the plea of reason; the argument of the century is the argument of love.

Here is the slave. The chains hang heavy on his arms; there is no light or fire of ambition in his heart, no light of hope in his eyes; it is to him a dull and level road of drudgery. What have you a right to ask of him? Merely that he will do his work as far as the limits of his chains will let him reach. The very most that you might require of him, the very height of venture in a slave, would be that he be patient, resigned, complaining in the inevitable, and faithful to his master. And here is the same slave set free. The chains have fallen to the dust, his eye lights, and his breast beats with the impulse of liberty, the air of freedom blows against his face. What may you ask of him now, less or more? Shall he say, "because the lash hangs no longer over me I will labor no more?" Not from the man who has liberty we may ask the loftiest purpose, progress in wisdom and invention, new achievements in science and philanthropy. We may expect that the feet which are free and the hands unbound, the soul released, shall give themselves a larger, a better work of helpful manhood. He who has a better thought must be found doing a better service and God has the right to ask of him who knows more a sweeter patience, a more untiring, faithful labor, a deeper love.

The deepest meaning of Christ's words is that they apply to every human life. Who is there of us to whom much has not been given? There is not one law for the genius and another for the common man. The swallow dies in the same way as the eagle. It is just as necessary and as beautiful for the dandelion to bloom as for the century plant. It is as reasonable to expect blossoms from one as from the other. There is one law of gravitation that binds the sand grain to its fellows on the sea beach and rivets the mountain in its place.

The evening theme was "The Simple Christian Faith."

ALL THE NEWS OF THE BADGER STATE

WOODWORKERS TALK OF A STRIKE AT OSHKOSH.

Elaborate Preparations for the Coming Grand Army Encampment at Appleton—Milwaukee Pastor Leaves the Pulpit to Enter the Volunteer Army from Michigan.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 16.—The employees of the local sash and door factories at a meeting yesterday afternoon decided not to go to work this morning. The session was prolonged in the nature of a mass meeting, the South Side Turner hall being utilized. The labor meeting thus inaugurated is one of the most extensive ever projected in the state of Wisconsin. The word workers' unions in this city number 2,600 men and there are seven factories involved whose output of sash and doors is probably as large as that of the rest of the country combined. Another session will be held tomorrow and committees appointed to confer with the manufacturers. The state board of arbitration is here, but the woodworkers are not inclined to recognize them formally. It looks like a long fight. The manufacturers take a gloomy view of the situation. They say that it would be impossible to concede the request for a sharp advance of 25 per cent with a minimum wage of $1.50 per day. The sash, door, and blind men of this city say they have not made interest on their investments since June, 1893, nearly five years ago, and were paying as good wages as their business would admit. It will be hard for them to take any concerted action, for the reason that the trade condition of each is different. The present impending trouble is much regretted, and is instigated, they think, by outside influence, acting through jealousy of Oshkosh manufacturers. They claim that while the Oshkosh men are at a great disadvantage in competition with the outside cities, they are paying just as good wages as are being paid for the same work elsewhere. They fear that a strike on the part of the wood workers will precipitate the permanent closing up of several of the sash, door and blind factories of the city.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Appleton is Preparing to Entertain the Veterans Handsomely.

Appleton, May 16.—Preparations for the G. A. R. encampment to be held here May 25 and 26 are in an excellent stage of forwardness. The decorations will be profuse. All the residences on the line of march will be decorated, in addition to most of the homes in other parts of the city. There will be eleven large arches and between 7,000 and 8,000 feet of evergreen to be stationed on the structures. The arches will be in green with flag decorations, and are distributed along the main street with two at the north side station and two more on the road from the south side station to department headquarters.

Every available place where rooms or board can be secured has been sought out and the entertainment committee will be on hand at department headquarters to assign the veterans to places where they will be entertained. In addition to the hundreds that can be cared for at the hotels a large number of private houses will be opened up to the visitors with rooms, or board, or both. About 600 can be cared for at homes in two wards alone and when all of these accommodations are taken the outlying wards will have their resources drawn upon.

Camp Harvey, Milwaukee, May 16.—Private E. C. Hooks, of Co. F, Second regiment, died in the hospital here late yesterday afternoon. He has been very ill almost all the time he has been in camp, his complaint being a bowel trouble. His condition became worse this afternoon and he passed away about 4 o'clock. He enlisted at Oshkosh as a recruit to Co. F, after the first call had been made. He leaves a wife residing in Oshkosh, who has been informed by Surgeon Major Evans. It was impossible for him to go with his regiment yesterday morning and he seemed to take it very much to heart.

SAY GOOD WORD FOR THE CITY

Milwaukee Journal Comments Janesville In Badger State Sketches.

The Milwaukee Journal in a page article about Wisconsin cities, has this to say of Janesville:

"Janesville is a city of nearly 13,000 inhabitants, its location being about seventy miles south of Milwaukee, on the Janesville and Attna branches of the Madison division and the Chicago and Janesville and Janesville and Fort Howard lines of the Wisconsin division of the Chicago and North Western railway. The city is situated near to the geographical center of Rock county, of which it is the judicial seat, and is in the heart of one of the most desirable tobacco growing regions in the United States. The tobacco industry has in fact proved one of the beneficial factors in the growth and prosperity of the city, many wholesale and jobbing houses having been established as a result of the large market thus created. In addition to this, however, Janesville has a number of manufacturing industries to her credit, such as cotton mills, agricultural implement works, furniture factories, planing mills, machine shops, shoe factories, etc. The city is also thoroughly up to date, being equipped with such modern improvements as a first class system of waterworks, an excellent fire department, gas, and electric works, electric car lines, as well as hospitals, schools and churches of exceptional excellence. Janesville is also noted for her large number of beautiful homes."

SUNDAY AT CAMP HARVEY

Comparatively Few Visited the Boys in Blue Yesterday.

Janesville was not well represented at Camp Harvey, Milwaukee, yesterday, and instead of the delegation of five hundred who were there a week ago from here, there were less than two dozen who made the trip yesterday. The report that reached the city Saturday to the effect that the First regiment was to move yesterday, had a tendency to induce anxious relatives to visit their loved ones for fear that it would be the last time. Those who went found things at the camp in rather an uninviting state. The wet weather of late has again put the grounds in bad order, and the boys are anything but pleased with the present condition of affairs.

They will need several days of warm weather to set things right. Captain Hanson and Assistant Surgeon J. B. Whiting, Jr., report that the boys are all well, and enjoy good health.

COULD NOT SLEEP.

Mrs. Pinkham Relieved Her of All Her Troubles.

Mrs. MADGE HADCOCK, 176 Second St., Grand Rapids, Mich., had ovarian trouble with its attendant aches and pains, now she is well. Here are her own words: "Your Vegetable Compound has made me feel like a new person. Before I began taking it I was all run down, felt tired and sleepy most of the time, had pains in my back and side, and such terrible headaches all the time, and could not sleep well nights. I also had ovarian trouble. Through the advice of a friend I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and since taking it all troubles have gone. My monthly sickness used to be so painful, but have not had the slightest pain since taking your medicine. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too much. My husband and friends see such a change in me. I look so much better and have some color in my face."

ENGLAND'S FRIENDLINESS.

The most significant utterance of the age, from an international standpoint, was the speech of Mr. Chamberlain, the English secretary of state for the colonies at Birmingham. He said in opening that he intended to make a "plain statement of facts, unfettered by the mysteries and reticences of the diplomacy of half a century ago, which, without revealing secret negotiations, should be understood of the people." (Continuing he said:

"The time has come when Great Britain may be confronted by a combination of powers and our first duty therefore is to draw all parts of the empire into close unity, and our next duty to maintain the bonds of permanent unity with our kinsmen across the Atlantic." (Loud cheers.)

"There is a powerful and generous nation," said Mr. Chamberlain, "speaking our language, bred of our race, and having interests identical with ours." (Prolonged cheers.) "It is one of the most satisfactory results of Lord Salisbury's policy that at this time these two great nations understand each other better than they have ever done since a century ago they were separated by the blunder of a British government."

That the significant utterance was made with the full knowledge that he would receive the support of the government therein, cannot be doubted, and the statement that the agreement should be made even at the expense of war, was loudly cheered. The English press, which has showed some hostility to American efforts, supports Mr. Chamberlain as follows:

The Times says: "Mr. Chamberlain was assured beforehand of the approval of the whole body of the unionists when contending that we must draw closer the ties binding us to the colonies. It was almost as much a foregone conclusion that the opportunity should be seized of establishing permanent relations of amity and something more with the United States, whose success in the operations that have lately taken place has been welcomed here, as not only justified by goodness of her cause, but as a tribute to the practical capacity of the Anglo-Saxon race in the business of war even when no adequate preparations for the struggle had been made."

The Chronicle welcomes Mr. Chamberlain's "brave and heroic plea for Anglo-American alliance."

The News thinks the speech "a strong signal" and believes that "the immediate point of danger is West Africa."

The Standard says: "There is not the smallest reason to suppose that his convictions are not shared by every member of the cabinet."

SHALL WE OWN CUBA?

Hon. E. D. Coo, on his return from Washington, said that there was a growing feeling that the island of Cuba would become a part of the territory of the United States, not by conquest, but by the act of the Cubans themselves. Continuing Mr. Coo said:

"I found prominent senators and congressmen, who have heretofore declared against annexing the Hawaiian Islands, who are today strongly in favor of it, believing that the United States should change its entire policy relative to acquiring new territory beyond the seas. One reason for this is the fact that we need more points where coaling stations can be established, as a result of our increasing importance as a naval power, and statesmen believe that we should have coaling stations at least every 2,000 miles, if possible."

The United States should annex the Hawaiian Islands and retain a coaling station at the Philippines, but we should not go further than that. Cuba cannot be made an American state as her people differ too widely from ours. The Philippines can never be Americanized and while the islands themselves are valuable, the population as a whole could not be controlled and revolutions and internal disturbances would be a source of constant expense and annoyance. A coaling station on the islands would be of immense value and should be secured for the United States."

ment of a war indefinitely and if Spain cannot settle there will be no trouble in "making a dictator" with some other nation.

WILL NOT MAKE CHANGES

The all absorbing topic "War" has relegated to the back ground every other interest, including the Klondike and politics. Ask the average republican voter, who will be the next governor, and he says:

"I have not given the matter any thought, but Mr. Scofield of course—he has made a splendid record and this a poor year for political changes."

Ask the same question of the rank and file of the party concerning the congressman from the first district and the reply is:

"Cooper is all right, and should be returned without opposition."

This is the prevailing sentiment throughout the district. There is of course a small element of disappointed office seekers that may work against his re-election, but the sentiment is very largely against any change this year. The republicans of Racine and Kenosha counties will not sacrifice a congressman to gratify the spite of a few disappointed postoffice candidates. So far as Rock county is concerned, there is no question but that she will furnish Mr. Cooper's successor when the time comes for him to retire, but no united effort will be made to gratify that ambition this year.

Mr. Cooper possesses ability that is recognized in the house. He has made a good representative and his many friends in Rock county will be glad to support him again this fall. Political squabbles and ambitions are insignificant in the shadow of the war cloud that now hangs over the country, and the conditions will continue until the navy and army of Spain are driven out of the western hemisphere.

The French papers are not suited with Secretary Chamberlain's Birmingham speech, but they are careful not to advocate official resentment. The Willey Frenchman did not find the mouth of a British cannon a very satisfactory looking glass the last time he was compelled to use it for that purpose.

The Oshkosh match factory has closed down for a time to allow extensions to the plant to be built. In the meantime, however, match making in the Sawdust City will not, it is thought, be wholly suspended, as the ambitious mamma and spooney lovers do not all belong to the match trust.

It cost Waukesha county $6,000 to convict Ernest Cornell of the murder of his two children, although he had confessed his guilt weeks ago. It would seem that there should be some way of getting around a case of this kind, but it does not appear there is.

Due credit should be given the Spaniards, however, even if they are unable to gauge the American delivery, and their game is made up largely of wild pitches and passed balls. They have made all the home runs so far.

Several French newspapers have offered their support to the American government for a money consideration. Papers that run on this plan have no influence and cannot hurt anyone if they would.

France must explain why that message was delayed or Uncle Sam will cut the Martinique cable. Foreign nations must be careful how they play with the buzz saw.

Constant Reader—No there are no "span yards" on the American war vessels. You are evidently thinking of the "yard arms."

Have Recently Passed Away From Earth.

After an illness of one week's duration, Samuel Atkinson, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Atkinson, died yesterday at 1:30 o'clock at the home of his parents, 111 Western avenue. The cause of his death was brain trouble.

The deceased was but twenty-three years of age, and was respected by all. He was employed at the local shops of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company, and his fellow employees speak in the highest terms of him as a companion and friend. Besides a grief-stricken father and mother the deceased leaves two sisters and four brothers, Miss Maggie Atkinson and Mrs. Alice Meas and William, Thomas, C. J., and John Atkinson. Services will be held from St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, interment to be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Margaret B. Miltimore.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret B. Miltimore was held yesterday afternoon, services at her late home being held at 2:30 o'clock p. m. and at the Baptist church at 3 o'clock. Rev. Arthur O. Kempton officiated and A. F. Hall, B. F. Dunwiddie, I. A. Whiffen, W. G. Heller, Nathan Dearborn and W. E. Clinton acted as pallbearers. The members of W. H. Sargent Relief Corps of which the deceased was a former president attended in a body, while a large number of friends were also present. Mr. Kempton paid a high tribute to the Christian character and philanthropic worth of the deceased and held her life up to his hearers as worthy of the most hearty emulation. Few residents of Janesville have passed away bearing more sincere love or who will be more generally missed.

Flory Shee.
Beloit, Wis., May 16.—[Special.]—Flory Shee was brought home from Chicago yesterday afternoon, dead. Mr. Shee was well known in this city, and it was a great shock to his friends. Appended is a list of those who have been the cause of his death. He lived at Janesville quite awhile, his brother conducting a tailor shop under the bridge. He leaves two brothers, one sister and a mother.

F. H. Wood.
Word was received here yesterday of the death of F. H. Wood, who went to Camp Harvey with Company E. He contracted a hard cold while there, which turned into pneumonia. Mr. Wood was a student of the Beloit College Academy, and was also a member of the Beloit College Glee club. He had no surviving parents. Charles Wheeler, who also went with Company E., is seriously ill with pneumonia.

H. M. Hendling.
H. M. Hendling, residing at 1047 Third street, died at 9 o'clock Saturday night after an illness of almost a year. Mr. Hendling has been the cook for Co. E. every year during their camping at Camp Douglas, for a great number of years, and was highly respected by all. He had been a resident of this city for a long time. He leaves a wife and three children, Belle, Eugene and Jennie. The funeral will take place Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Bohan.
Mrs. Margaret Bohan, widow of the late James Bohan, died of bronchitis pneumonia at 11:45 on Saturday evening at her home, No. 261 Cherry street. Deceased had been a resident of Janesville for many years, and had a large circle of friends. She was sixty-one years old, and leaves one daughter.

FIRST PICNIC OF THE SEASON

Miss Hazel Woodstock and Her Young Friends Have An Outing

The first picnic of the season was held on Saturday when Miss Hazel Woodstock and a party of her young friends had an outing on the banks of Rock river near Afton. The party went overland, Miss Woodstock's father driving the merry children to the river, but a rain storm set in and all were compelled to seek shelter at a nearby farm house near by. The party enjoyed their picnic dinner and a few outdoor games, however, before the dampness came and were well.

ASKS FOR HEAVY BILL OF DAMAGE

ELLA V. PRATT SUES THE CITY
FOR $10,000.

Sustained Permanent Injuries by a Fall on a Defective Sidewalk—A Jury Selected and Its Members View the Spot Where the Accident Occurred.

The city of Janesville is the defendant in a damage suit for $10,000 that was commenced in the circuit court of Rock county this morning in the on titled action of Ella V. Pratt vs. City of Janesville. The following is the jury: John E. Sargent, John A. Yost, John Burgess, J. S. Bandford, H. A. Viets, T. A. Carroll, O. C. Fisher, D. J. McLeay, John Sperry, W. H. Meyers, Harry Garbutt and John Flieger.

A Defective Sidewalk

The case is one for alleged injuries received by falling on an alleged defective sidewalk on the evening of July 14, 1895, the accident happening on the stone walk that bordered on the Milwaukee street side of the Armory block at the corner of Milwaukee and Franklin streets. The case this morning was opened on the part of the plaintiff by M. G. Jeffrie, of the firm of Fethers, Jeffrie, Field & Yost and on the part of the defendant by Attorney E. M. Hyer, who is assisting City Attorney F. O. Burpee. Soon after the case was opened the jury in charge of Deputy Wallace Cochran marched to the scene of the accident for the purpose of viewing the surroundings and getting whatever information they could in reference to the case. The accident occurred directly in front of the Armory block from Milwaukee street. At the time of the accident the walk was a stone one, but since it has been replaced with a cement walk. After the jury had spent some time in viewing the property and looking into the case, they were marched back to the court house, when the case was resumed.

The Evidence Opened.

The plaintiff was the first witness called. Miss Pratt stated that the accident happened about 9:30 o'clock in the evening of July 14, 1895, while she was returning home from the train, where she went to see a friend. She was accompanied by her sister and Ernest Newell. She stated that the accident was the result of a hole in the stone walk that was from two to three inches deep and which was caused by the breaking away of the stone. By the fall she is alleged to have received permanent injuries to her left knee joint, as well as a nervous shock to her whole system.

Experts on Hand

Dr. Gill, of Madison, is here to testify in behalf of the city, while Dr. Kempster, of Milwaukee, will give testimony in behalf of the plaintiff.

JANESVILLE SCHOOLS ON TOP

The Cost Less and Are More Efficient Than Those of Any Other City.

Professor Williams, of Ford du Lac has just compiled statistics showing the cost of instruction during the year 1897 in the public schools in thirteen of the cities of Wisconsin—Green Bay, Appleton, Madison, La Crosse, Eau Claire, Superior, Racine, Wausau, Marinette, Sheboygan, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Janesville. The figures show that the salary of the city superintendent and high school principals are lower than the same officials in any of the other cities named; that the average salaries of assistants in high schools are the lowest; that the cost of instruction and supervision per pupil enrolled in high schools is the lowest; that the number of pupils enrolled to the teachers employed is the highest; that the percentage of normal trained teachers is the highest, and that the average salaries paid teachers in the grade schools is the lowest. Only 33 per cent. of the teachers employed in Janesville are from out of town, the lowest in any city in the state, save Oshkosh, where only 18 per cent. are non-residents. The cost of instruction and supervision in Janesville is but $9 per pupil, a showing which is equalled only by Eau Claire and Marinette, Appleton showing the highest per capita, $14.

When the efficiency of the Janesville schools is considered these figures will be gratifying to citizens generally, for in point of scholarship no city in the state can show a higher standard than is maintained here.

MRS. BOND IS COMPLIMENTED

Janesville Musician Receives High Praise From a Chicago Newspaper

Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, a former resident of this city, was paid a compliment by the Chicago Times-Herald of yesterday that she may well feel proud of. The paper contained a good likeness of Mrs. Bond and had this to say: "Mrs. Bond not only composes music, but vocalizes and gives it instrumental life as well, is well shown by the character of the brilliant vocal caprice 'Memories of Versailles' and the Tzigany (Hungarian gypsy) dances which specially followed. The 'Chimney Swallow' is no less cleverly descriptive and her latest success written in still another vein is the brilliant march 'To the Visitor,' which has been played in Chicago and elsewhere by both Booth and Sousa. Nor is the scope of her vocal compositions any more restricted than that of her instrumental work. Dreamy ballads, tender love songs, restful love songs, gay little bits of child melody—all these Mrs. Bond brings forth rapidly, one as easily as the other. Quiet, subdued, the twilight hour, congenial companionship, any and all of these conditions awake the people and the melodic fervor in the breast of this slender little woman whose music is fast making her famous."

TWO FLEETS COMING.

Spaniards Plan a Trick to Mislead Uncle Sam.

Madrid, May 16.—The Madrid press and people are elated over the alleged smartness of Admiral Cervera in sending Admiral Villamil to Martinique thirty-six hours after the former was well on his way to Havana. While it was supposed that Villamil was scouting ahead, he was really the squadron's rear guard, the Spaniards thus gaining invaluable time.

Washington, May 16.—This cable message, which is indefinite, doubtless because the censor modified it after it was filed by the correspondent, opens up a new possibility, namely, that two Spanish fleets are in the Caribbean sea. The Cape Verde fleet was supposed to be in command of Admiral Villamil, but of late the messages from Spanish sources have read as if Admiral Cervera were in command of it.

This latest dispatch seems to indicate that there are two distinct fleets. It is well settled that six of the seven warships of the Cape Verde fleet are at Curacao. The torpedo boat Terror, which was with the Cape Verde fleet, is at Martinique. But Villamil may have other warships. There are three formidable Spanish cruisers which have not been heard of for a long time. They are the Cardinal Cisneros, the Catalina, and the Principe de Asturias, of 7,000 tons and a speed of twenty knots, carrying eleven guns. For all the American public knows, Villamil may have these warships in the vicinity of Martinique.

Assignment of State Troops.

Washington, May 16.—After going over the situation with Gen. Miles, Adj. Gen. Corbin and the heads of the supply departments, the secretary of war made an order for the assignment of volunteer troops now being mustered into the service of the United States and designated points where they will assemble with the least possible delay. The officers to organize these troops into brigades and divisions will be determined upon very soon and be ordered to stations accordingly. At the close of work at 6 o'clock the total number of troops mustered was 45,000.
